DW NEWS

On the hour, every hour

Starting on 22 June 2015, Deutsche Welle's global English-language service will broadcast full-length news bulletins around the clock every day. The main focus is on our new 30-minute shows, running 14 times a day from Monday to Friday. Eight times a day – and at the weekends – DW News will have 15-minute summaries of all the key stories from Europe and around the world. On weekdays, two one-hour bulletins at 14:00 and 18:00 UTC will have a special focus on Asia and Africa respectively.

The new DW News aims to go deep beneath the surface, bringing you detailed explanations and expert analysis of the issues that affect you, our viewers around the world. DW News will provide a direct link to the world of social media, getting the information you need to you faster than ever. DW News will have full coverage of all the big topics from the worlds of business, sport and culture. Tune in for stories that you won't see elsewhere, providing fascinating new insights into the people and places beyond the headlines.

DW News: connecting the dots for viewers across the globe.

Anna Netrebko

DOCUMENTARY

Anna – The Great

Anna Netrebko – the world’s most famous opera diva – is an artist of exceptional talent, an outstanding practitioner of her métier. She is high up on the Forbes list of most influential people, and acclaimed by critics as one of the best performers on stage today. Netrebko has rendered a great service to the world of opera. Thanks to the singer, a genre often dismissed as old-fashioned and elitist is emerging with a fresh new appeal. Just as the Three Tenors did in the 1990s, the Russian-born soprano has helped to popularize the art form. The film Anna – The Great documents the artist’s career.

The Mecca Clock Tower

A Stuttgart firm of architects has built the largest clock in the world in Mecca – a project of superlatives. The tower in the center of the holy pilgrimage site breaks more than 30 world records. The huge clock faces, for example, measure 43 meters in diameter, the minute hands are 23 meters long and each of the four motors weighs 21 tons. This makes the clock almost 35 times bigger than Big Ben. During night hours, two million LEDs illuminate the clock faces, which are legible from a distance of up to eight kilometers.

The documentary The Mecca Clock Tower tells the astonishing story of this engineering masterpiece from the initial concept through to its realization. The film also provides rare insights into Islam’s most sacred place.

World Heritage Mission

The UNESCO list of world heritage sites is about to get longer – but which new places of cultural and natural significance will be selected for inclusion? A meeting to decide is being held in Bonn from 28 June to 8 July. In a five-part series “World Heritage Mission,” Euromaxx presents outstanding sites in Europe – such as Aachen Cathedral in Germany, the Chauvet Cave in France and the North Sea mudflats.

Hamburg v. Naumburg

Discover Germany profiles this year’s German candidates for the UNESCO list of world heritage sites: Hamburg is in the running with its historic warehouse district and Kontorhaus quarter. Other nominations are Naumburg Cathedral and the landscape around the Saale and Unstrut Rivers. Like no other place on earth, this region captures the spirit of the High Middle Ages between the 11th and 13th centuries, with a superb concentration of castles, palaces and churches from the period.
